

Healthy Lake Huron

Clean Water, Clean Beaches

Follow us on Twitter:

twitter.com/HealthyLkHuron

healthylakehuron.ca

Community volunteers help to maintain clean water, clean beaches, along Lake Huron's southeast shores. Above, volunteers with the Centre Ipperwash Beach Association take part in a shoreline cleanup.

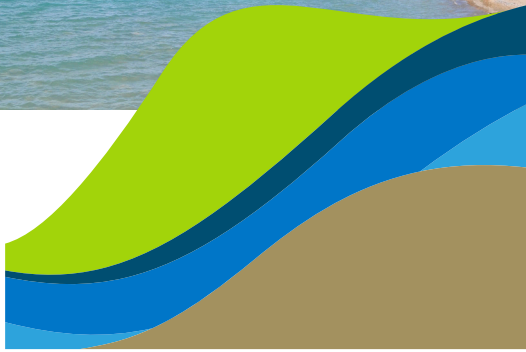

Help keep this Great Lake great!

All levels of government, local public health and conservation agencies, community groups, and landowners and residents ... are all working together.

We are all part of the
Healthy Lake Huron:
Clean Water, Clean Beaches
Partnership.

Together we can help to keep beaches clean and to protect water quality by keeping pollutants out of creeks, drains, rivers, groundwater, and Lake Huron.

Visit
healthylakehuron.ca

Healthy Lake Huron

Clean Water, Clean Beaches

Follow us on Twitter:

twitter.com/HealthyLkHuron

Get free
regular news updates.

Visit the home page of

healthylakehuron.ca

and sign up now!

We rely on Lake Huron Help keep it healthy

Thousands of people enjoy Lake Huron as a place to swim and to fish.

This Great Lake is also the source of raw water, treated for drinking water, for hundreds of thousands of people in Canada and the United States.

Your positive actions help to keep the water and shoreline clean.

Visit us online or follow us on Twitter for ways you can help to keep Lake Huron healthy.

twitter.com/HealthyLkHuron