About Parkhill Reservoir

- Parkhill Reservoir is 104 hectares (257 acres) with open areas over sheltered coves.
- Getting out on the water in a canoe or kayak is a favourite summertime activity.
- Parkhill Reservoir offers still, flat waters to be enjoyed by all skill levels. The boat launch parking lot has lots of room for parking your vehicle and trailer.
- Some common fish are Largemouth Bass, Brown Bullhead, White Crappie, and Yellow Perch.
- Water is all around this park. Migrating Warblers and even Bald Eagles have been spotted here. Bring your binoculars.

Parkhill Conservation Area

32910 Centre Road,
Parkhill, Ontario, Canada

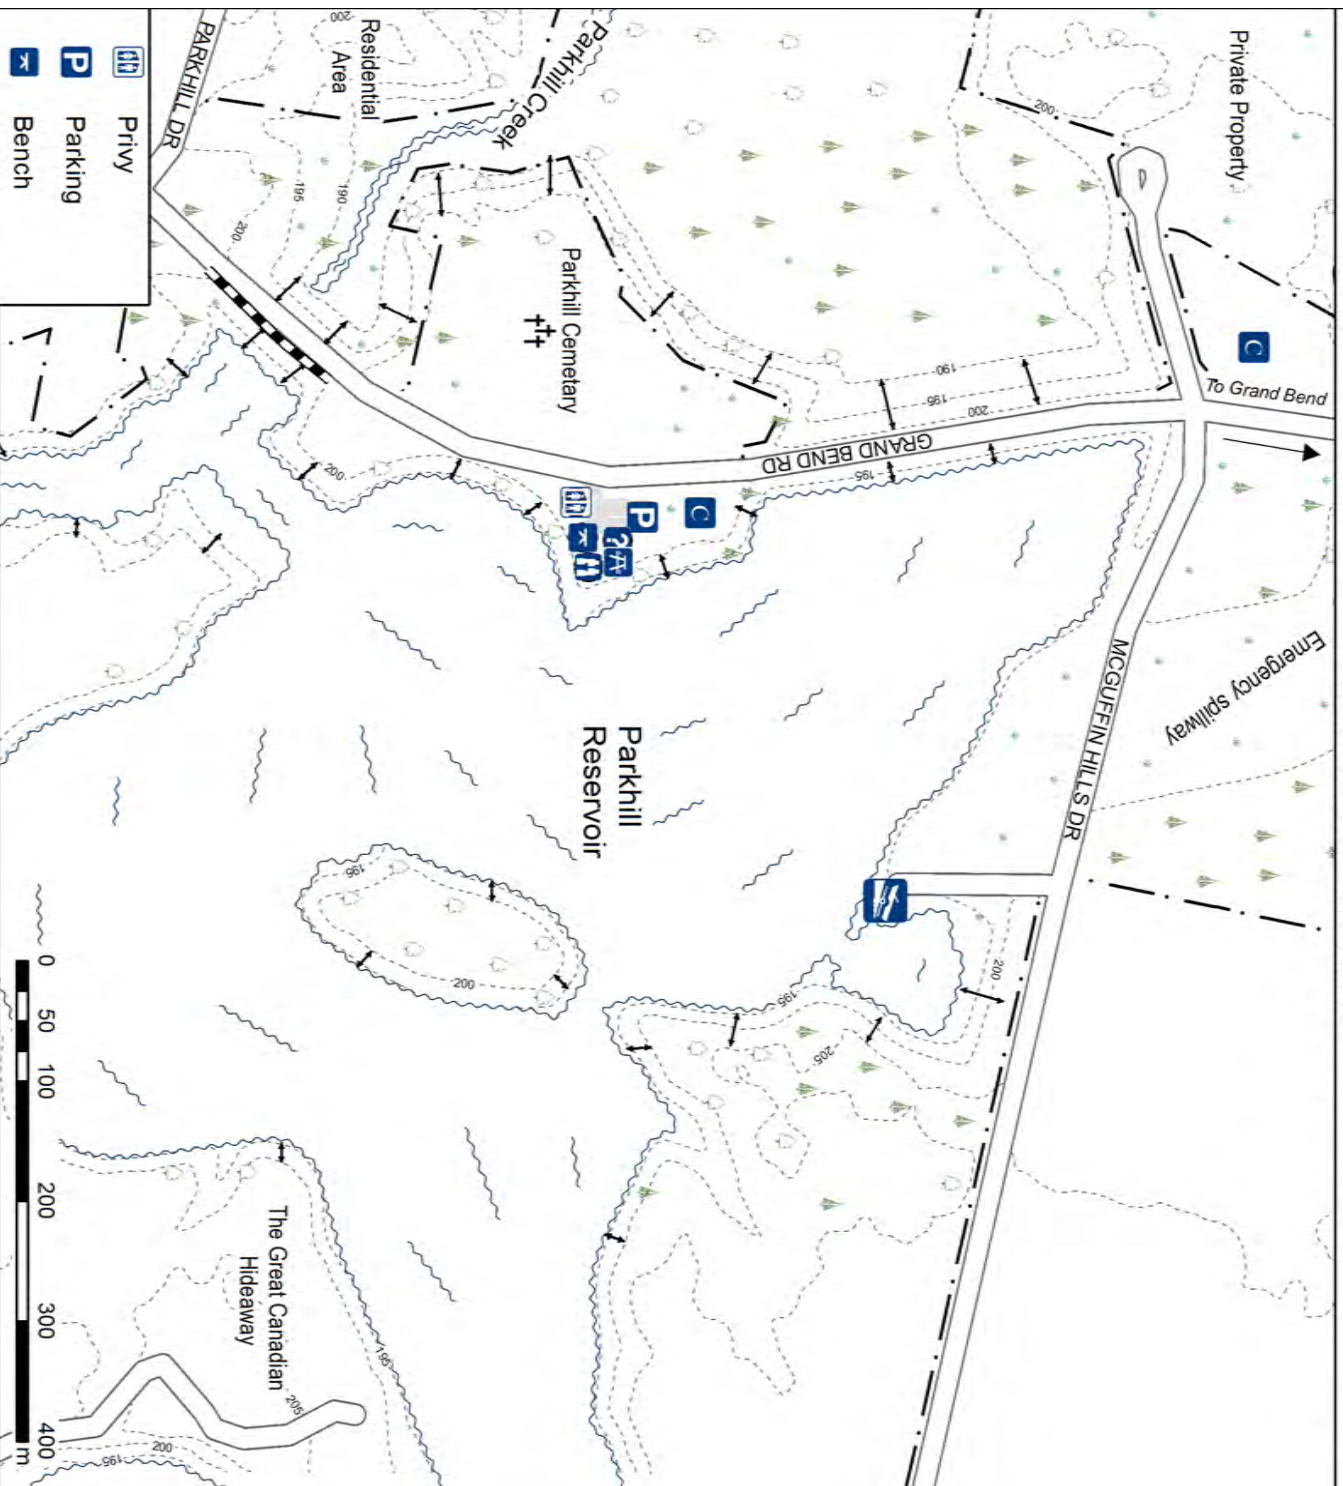

About the Park

- In 1969, the former Ausable River Conservation Authority constructed Parkhill Dam and Reservoir to help control flooding around Parkhill Creek between Parkhill and Lake Huron.
- Parkhill Lions Club has adopted the Scenic Lookout to care for and has provided benches and picnic tables. We thank them for their support.
